ACADEMIC PROJECT

TITLE: EVALUATION OF PACKAGING MATERIALS AND METHOD OVER STORAGE OF SLICED ONION

There is now an increasing demand for sliced onion. As the production rate of onion is high but storage life of sliced onion is less. To overcome this problem and to increase the value of onions, the MAP method with different packaging material was done to gain a high storage life and with evaluating quality parameters to determine the best packaging material suitable for sliced onion. Finally, we increased onions storage life up to 16 days by using LDPE material.
